

Experience the world of IVF

The physicians and staff of Seattle Reproductive Medicine invite you to attend our Clinical Preceptorship.

Fertility Specialists:

Michael R. Soules, MD
Nancy A. Klein, MD
Paul C. Lin, MD
Angela C. Thyer, MD
Amy R. Criniti, MD
Paul S. Dudley, MD
Lynn B. Davis, MD, MS
David G. Ball, PhD

Objective:

To introduce the visitor to a medical practice of assisted reproductive technology (ART) and to provide both breadth and depth to the visitors knowledge of the patients experience in this therapeutic modality for subfertility, the multi-disciplinary approach underlying ART, and, through a tour of the operating room suite and In Vitro Fertilization Laboratory, an overview of the medicine and science comprising this therapy.

Each preceptorship is tailored to the anticipated background of the visitor so that appropriate information is imparted to him or her. More or less time and detail can be committed to the various elements included in the program.

Program:

- Overview of monitoring of IVF patients and views of stimulated ovaries
- Observation of Egg retrievals
- Meet with Lab Director (David Ball, PhD) to include observation of: Andrology, Egg Wash, Embryo Transfer, ICSI and Assisted Hatching if possible
- Antral Follicle Count: learn how to perform an Antral Follicular count as a part of the diagnostic process
- Donor Egg Program and Financing Fertility Treatment overview
- Case conference with all SRM MD's and lunch

SRM's clinical preceptorship program is available most Thursdays and generally runs from 7am – 1pm.

For more information or to schedule a preceptorship, call Michelle Pfeifer at 425-503-7806 or Sharman McAllister at 206-387-2727
