

Have you recently contacted a fertility clinic?

Project Journey is seeking couples for an online research study on the adjustment to fertility treatment and medically assisted reproduction

THE PURPOSE

During fertility treatment or medically assisted reproduction, couples may experience changes to their psychological, physical, relationship, and sexual well-being.

We hope to better understand and improve couples' experience during fertility treatment and medically assisted reproduction.

WHAT COUPLES WILL BE ASKED TO DO

Receive up to $140 USD per couple + entry for $75 USD giveaway

Each partner will independently complete 5 individual online surveys over 2 years.

Surveys will ask about experiences with fertility treatment or medically assisted reproduction as well as psychological, physical, sexual, and relationship wellbeing.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

- Couples within 6-months of their first visit to a fertility clinic*
- Couples are in an intimate relationship
- Have internet access and personal emails
- Fluent in French or English
- Partners are both 18+

*Or are returning after 1-year+ hiatus from clinic or have only had an initial appointment > 6-months and have returned to a clinic within the last 6 months

Contact us

journey.project@outlook.com

1-514-343-6111, ext. 54060

UdeM REB #CEREP-19-070-D | Dalhousie REB #2019-4813

CIHR IRSC
Canadian Institutes of Health Research | Instituts de recherche en santé du Canada